

November 2022 Newsletter

President's Message-Marilyn Corners

Greetings Rocky Mountain Hi Ladies. Now we come to another end of the year, another end of the term for our elected officers and board members, but rest assured, not the end of our group of Painters.

Even though The Society of Decorative Painters is going away as we have known it, we will continue to have the benefits of the Certification Program, the Painters Academy Classes and the Teachers Development Program. It is important that we recognize that all is not lost.

As for Rocky Mountain Hi, we will continue to meet and paint as a group of "Painting Sisters" who enjoy the company of each other and want to share the joy of creating beauty while learning new skills and techniques.

Next week, Monday, November 21st at 6 p.m. we will meet for our last gathering of 2022. That evening will be special and delightful when we have the installation of the new officers and board for 2023, enjoy a Potluck dinner, exchange ornaments, and present a gift of dozens of cookies to the Garden Plaza Staff as a 'Thank You' for allowing us to meet in their lovely facility free of charge. I am so looking forward to seeing your pretty faces there.

Check out the articles in this newsletter for information about the programs planned for 2023. It's going to be very enjoyable!

Hugs to each of you.

Vice President/Program Report-Ginny Sparlin

Hi All,

This year has been a blur. It's hard to realize it's almost over.

Thanksgiving is just a week or so away and Christmas is right on its heels!! Do you have your Turkey?? I've already made my cranberry sauce and jarred it up...Love all those traditions.

Monday, November 21st at 6:pm, at Garden Plaza, is our annual Christmas meeting and pot luck. Everyone usually brings an appetizer or some kind of treat; occasionally a bucket of chicken...

It's always a great time to see everyone and reconnect, we mainly sit around and eat and chat and laugh. We'll be installing the officers who will serve on the board for 2023. I'd love to see all our members there. For a treat this year, there will be a few door prizes...

Also, if you're interested, there will be an ornament exchange. If you'd like to participate, bring your painted/crafted ornament, wrapped or bagged with YOUR NAME INSIDE the package, so whoever picks it will know who to thank!

We're also collecting a dozen or so bagged cookies from each member to fill a gift basket for all the employees of Garden Plaza. We meet there for free all year, and this is a chance to show them our appreciation for all they do for us.

So, remember: Put on your best Holiday sparkle, bring a plate to share, a wrapped ornament(optional) and a bag of cookies, and come on down. We'd love it if you'd bring a friend, the more the merrier!

Sincerely,

Ginny Sparlin, V. P. Questions? Call me 303-693-0771

Painting Tip: Tracy Moreau shared this tip on Facebook

Storing stencils is an issue for many, I store my stencils in different ways . Larger stencils I clip together and hang on S hooks. You can store a great many this way in a small area. (in a closet or on the side of shelving)

For my smaller 6 x 6 and collage stencils I use Card Keepers(like small file cabinets, with dividers) the are perfect and allow you to categorize the smaller designs and they hold many many stencils...just sayin.

For my standard 8.5 x 11 stencils....my favourite method is in page protectors and in binders. I like this because I can keep the stencils flat and I can catalog them easily (for designers , knowing the manufacturer and the item number is important) so I write it on the sleeve, for future reference.

We won't discuss how many binders I havejust sayin'

I clean and dry the stencils (when I remember) before returning them to their sleeve.
